brat, do we have, we don't have the right to shape them up then do we. If he should happen to start yelling and the neighbors call the police and we have character assassination, the police coming to the, we have all kinds of harrassments. Maybe it could be a mother-in-law. I think it's, we have too much permissiveness now, in fact, we have many of our public school teachers are getting out of the business because of incorrigible children. They're not getting the proper shaping up at home and will this stop this, put a stop once and for all of shaping up these children at home?

SENATOR MARSH: No sir.

SENATOR NORE: --in the woodshed?

SENATOR MARSH: No sir. But it will stop broken arms and broken ribs. Woodshedding's designed for one place and that's not one.

SPEAKER: Yes, Senator Nore.

SENATOR NORE: Just how often do these things happen, Senator Marsh?

SENATOR MARSH: Senator Nore, in the public hearing we heard how often or at least some indication of how often it happens in Lancaster County. We do not have records of how often it happens in the State of Nebraska and to have more records is part of the intent of this bill.

SENATOR NORE: If there is no proof of it, it could be because of alcohol and drugs and etc.

SENATOR MARSH: Thank you. Senator Nore, CES last night carried a documentary which showed 60,000 children who had been abused who required, had been abused to the point where they needed hospitalization.
